Is it all about exams? Developing Critical Thinking during B2 First Exam Preparation

It is common belief that preparing for certifications is all about techniques – is it, though? Ethan Mansur will walk us through his ideas on how to encourage students to develop creative and critical thinking when preparing exams. The purpose is to help them shape the mindset they will rely on in the learning process, as well as engage them more during the lessons.

He will focus on B2 First Certificate and will make use of materials taken from Ready for B2 First, the new edition from the Macmillan series “Ready For” where he was a co-author in the project.
